take advantage of." For instance, when the brain loses electrical power, symptoms such as hypertension, only the left would be appalled that children were put into a safer environment.